

Malaysian Economy

Unfolding Growth and Social Change

OXFORD

This textbook is skillfully designed to meet the increasing demand for undergraduate and graduate students pursuing courses in business, economics, accountancy and finance and many others, who needs to understand the developments in the Malaysian economy over the last 15 years. It comprises 11 solid chapters such as Macroeconomic Policies, Development of Agriculture, Industrial Policy and Industrialization, Affirmative Action and Ethnic Inequality and various others that address a broader theory and the historical underpinnings before critically anchoring the analysis. Readers can be assured of completing this book with a clear grasp on the Malaysia's macroeconomic structure and a full understanding on the economic issues of concern to policymakers, academics and even industry experts.

Key Features

- Adequate coverage according to the syllabus prescribed by the Ministry of Higher Education
- Discussion using simple language and punctuated with relevant illustrations and current statistics
- Thorough exploration of macroeconomic structure of Malaysia as the text within this book has also been contributed by several revered academicians who are all experts in this field
- Learning Objectives and Margin Notes are included in each chapter to highlight important concepts, theories and principles that needs to be learned
- Questions at the end of the chapter to assess the students understanding ability by allowing them to apply critical thinking skills to the given problems

Rajah Rasiah holds the Kazanah Nasional chair of Regulatory Studies at the Centre of Regulatory Studies, University of Malaya. He holds a D.Phil. from University of Cambridge, Cambridge. He is also a Professorial Fellow at the Maastricht Economic and Social Research and Training Centre on Innovation and Technology (MERIT), United Nations University, and a Senior Research Associate at the Sanjaya Lal Centre of Technology and Development at University of Oxford. He has published a large number of papers in reputed national & international journals.

Malaysian Economy

Unfolding Growth and Social Change

EDITOR
Rajah Rasiah

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

e-mail enquiries@dcs@oxfordfajar.com.my www.oxfordfajar.com.my

ISBN 978-983-47036-4-6

